

New layout

OutNow has been redesigned. As you may have noticed NCB changed its layout last December as far as letters, invoices, envelopes etc. are concerned; thus OutNow had to be redesigned, too. The contents of OutNow will not be changed – we only change the ‘wrapping’ – and we do hope that you will still greet our newsletter rather warmly.

Deadline

When reading this issue of OutNow we do hope that you have sent us your sales information covering the 2 half of 2003 and submitted all your releases for NCB registration already.

Unfortunately, we have noted that some of you have had problems meeting our deadline as far as the completion of the sales report covering the 2 half of 2003 is concerned. Furthermore, some of you have not submitted all your releases for NCB registration in due time.

Therefore, we must once again impress on you that you always meet NCB's deadlines.

Do you know ...

- © that NCB's website has been redesigned, too. Among other things you have got your own site on which we can publish NCB forms and 'papers' having relevance to you – e.g. all issues of OutNow, registration forms, additional agreements and information material.
- © that you have to log on to the site with a user id and password in order to get access to your site. Please mail to vap@ncb.dk if you have forgotten your user id or your password. We intend to publish more forms and information material when it is relevant so please check our website now and then.
